curator tourist

Hello everyone. Thank you very much for visiting our museum today. My name is Kousei, curator of this museum. I would like to introduce some of the representative works of art that the museum is proud of.

First of all, I would like to introduce "The Mona Lisa" by Leonardo da Vinci. This work is believed to have been created between 1503 and 1506.

Oh,she is beautiful and she has a mysterious smile. Also, she is looking at me from every angle.

Why does she seem to see eye to eye from everywhere?

It is due to the painting technique called "sfumato."

Next on the tour is Auguste Rodin's "The Thinker. Work on this sculpture began in 1880. Originally designed as part of the "Gates of Hell" piece, it was later acclaimed as a stand-alone work.

What a wonderful tension in his muscles and the accuracy of his facial expressions. I'm really curious to see what he's thinking.

Lastly, we present "Thirty-six Views of Mt. Fuji" by the Japanese ukiyoe artist Katsushika Hokusai. This series, created in the 1830s.

I heard that it was highly appreciated both in Japan and abroad and had a large impact on later Western painters.The balance between the beautiful Mt. Fuji and the powerful rough waves are great.

That’s right. That concludes today's presentation. Please let me know if you have any further questions.

The Mona Lisa

The Thinker

Thirty-six Views of Mt. Fuji